PS Index of Authored Articles

Volume XXVII, No. 1 (March) through No. 4 (December) 1994

Anagnoson, J. Theodore. Netting the Big One: Some Things Candidates (and Departments) Ought to Know . . . From the Hiring Department's Perspective. September, p. 558.

APSA Committee on Education (1991–93). APSA Guidelines for Teacher Training. June, p. 261.

Baker, Nancy V. Oyez, Oyez, Oyez: the Trials of Teaching the Supreme Court. June, p. 253.

Bellin, Eva. Civil Society: Effective Tool of Analysis for Middle Eastern Politics? September, p. 509.

Bill, James A. Comparative Middle East Politics: Still in Search of Theory. September, p. 518.

Black, Naomi. Introduction: Mainstreaming Gender, Race, and Sexual Orientation in the Teaching of Political Science. December, p. 716.

Bourque, Susan C., APSA Treasurer's Report. December, p. 756.

Bowers, David Alexander. Using Prodigy and Other Online Services in the Political Science Classroom. December, p. 708.

Brams, Steven J., and Samuel Merrill III. Would Ross Perot Have Won the 1992 Presidential Election Under Approval Voting? March, p. 39.

Brintnall, Michael. Report on the APSA Research Grant Program. March, p. 122.

Brintnall, Michael. A Political Scientist Returns to Vietnam. September, p. 628.

Brown, Lawrence D. National Health Reform: An Idea Whose Political Time Has Come? June, p. 198.

Cantori, Louis J. Introduction: Democracy, Islam, and the Study of Middle Eastern Politics. September, p. 507.

Cantori, Louis J. The Old Orthodoxy and the New Orthodoxy in the Study of Middle Eastern Politics. September, p. 515.

Chittick, William O. Enlargement of Foreign Policy Section. December, p. 750.

Clark, Terry D. The Russian Elections: Back to Square One? September, p. 520.

Clarke, Jeanne N., Remembering Aaron Wildavsky. March, p. 132.

Cominskey, Michael. The Usefulness of Senate Confirmation Hearings for Judicial Nominees: The Case of Ruth Bader Ginsburg. June, p. 224.

Cook, Beverly B. Ghosts and Giants in Judicial Politics. March, p. 78.

Engstrom, Robert L. Voting Rights and Election Systems: Dilution, Compactness, and Appearance. December, p. 685.

Fein, Rashi. Economists and Health Reform. June, p. 192.

Field, Mona. Impact of Ideology on Press Reports About Events in the Former Soviet Union. March, p. 55.

Furlong, Deborah K., and Scott R. Furlong. Netting the Big One: Things Candidates (and Departments) Ought to Know. March, p. 91.

Gerber, Scott D. Reordering American Constitutional Law Teaching. December, p. 703.

Githens, Marianne. Teaching Against the Double Couplet of Problem/Victim. December, p. 721.

Gray, Virginia. Federalism and Health Care. June, p. 217.

Green, Jerrold D. The Politics of Middle East Politics. September, p. 517.

Gruberg, Martin. Incorporating a Women's Studies Dimension Into Mainstream Political Science Courses. December, p. 717.

Gruberg, Martin. Participation by Women in the 1994 APSA Meeting. December, p. 741.

Gunter, Michael M. A Trip to Free Kurdistan. March, p. 146.

Hammer, Dean. Giving Flesh to Ideas: Constructing A Cultural Dialogue. June, p. 259.

Hochschild, Jennifer. The Political Contingency of Public Opinion, or What Shall We Make of the Declining Faith of Middle-Class African Americans? March, p. 35.

Hoefler, James M. Critical Thinking and the Use of Optical Illusions. September, p. 538.

Hubbell, Larry. Teaching Research Methods: An Experiential and Heterodoxical Approach. March, p. 60.

Jacobs, Lawrence R., and Robert Y. Shapiro. Studying Substantive Democracy. March, p. 9.

Jacobs, Lawrence R., and Robert Y. Shapiro. Questioning the Conventional Wisdom on Public Opinion Toward Health Reform. June, p. 208.

Jordan, Donald L., and Peter M. Sanchez. Traditional versus Technology-Aided Instruction: The Effects of Visual Stimulus in the Classroom. March, p. 64.

Katzenstein, Mary Fainsod, and Peter J. Katzenstein. Invitation to Submit Proposals for 1995 Annual Meeting. September, p. 597.

Kelaher, Christopher J., and Edward Artinian. How to Select a Publisher in Political Science. March, p. 84.

Keyssar, Helene. Space Bridges: The US-Soviet Space Bridge Resource Center. June, p. 247.

Korany, Bahgat. Arab Democratization: A Poor Cousin? September, p. 511.

Langbein, Laura I. The Validity of Student Evaluations of Teaching. September, p. 545.

Marmor, Theodore. The Politics of Universal Health Insurance: Lessons from Past Administrations? June, p. 194.

Mather, Lynn. Introducing a Feminist Pioneer in Judicial Politics: Beverly Blair Cook. March, p. 76.

McBride, Allan. Teaching Research Methods Using Appropriate Technology. September, p. 553.

McIntosh, Daniel. Political Economy in a Lunar Colony: A Simulation of Relationships Between Technology and Politics. December, p. 706.

Melone, Albert P. Serendipity and International Experience in Political Science: the Bulgaria/Southern Illinois University at Carbondale Connection. March, p. 149.

Monroe, Burt L. Beyond 'Plurality versus PR.' December, p. 677.

Morduchowicz, Roxana. Newspapers As Texts for Students' Political Education: The Case of Argentina. June, p. 316.

Morone, James A. Neglected Institutions: Politics, Administration, and Health Reform. June, p. 220.

Nagel, Jack H. What Political Scientists Can Learn From the 1993 Electoral Reform in New Zealand. September, p. 525.

Nelson, Daniel N., and Samuel Bentley. The Comparative Politics of Eastern Europe. March, p. 45.

Nelson, Michael. Faculty and Community in the Liberal Arts College (With Observations on Research and Teaching). March, p. 73.

Nossiff, Rosemary. Why Justice Ginsburg Is Wrong About States Expanding Abortion Rights. June, p. 227.

Olshfski, Dorothy. Teaching Public Administration by Exploiting Managerial Experience. March, p. 67.

Page, Benjamin I. Democratic Responsiveness? Untangling the Links Between Public Opinion and Policy. March, p. 25.

Parens, Joshua. Whose Liberalism? Which Islam? Leonard Binder's "Islamic Liberalism." September, p. 514.

Parker, E. Joyce. Mainstreaming Gender, Race, and Sexual Orientation in Teaching: A Student's Point of View. December, p. 722.

Peng, Yali. Intellectual Fads in Political Science: The Cases of Political Socialization and Community Power Studies. March, p. 100.

Permaloff, Anne, and Carl Grafton. Information at Your Fingertips: Online

Services for the New User. June, p. 232.
Peterson, Mark A. Health Care and the Hill: Why Is This Year Different From All Others? June, p. 202.
Peterson, V. Spike. Social Hierarchies as Systems of Power. December, p. 719.
Powell, Jr., G. Bingham. Report of the Managing Editor of the American Political Science Review, 1993–94. December, p. 759.
Prestage, Jewel L. The Case of African American Women and Politics. December, p. 720.
Roelofs, H. Mark. Two Ways to Political Science: Critical and Descriptive. June, p. 264.
Rosenstone, Steven J., and David C. Leege. An Update on the National Election Studies. December, p. 693.
Rudder, Catherine E. Report of the Executive Director. September, p. 580.
Rule, Wilma. Electoral Systems: Critical for Women's Recruitment. December, p. 689.
Rush, Mark E. Gerrymandering: Out of the Political Thicket and Into the Quagmire. December, p. 682.
Russett, Bruce, Thomas Hartley, and Shoon Murray. The End of the Cold War, Attitude Change, and the Politics of Defense Spending. March, p. 17.
Ryan, Jeffrey J., and Marijke Bruening. Twisting Arms and Holding Hands: M.A. Students and Conference Participation. June, p. 256.
Salkever, Stephen G., and Michael Nylan. Comparative Political Philosophy and Liberal Education: "Looking for Friends in History." June, p. 238.
Sanchez-Lazer, Teresa. Advanced Placement Program News. June, p. 263.
Seitz, John L. "Now That Was A Good Class": Learning About Politics by Observing Local Government. March, p. 71.
Skocpol, Theda. From Social Security to Health Security? Opinion and Rhetoric in U.S. Social Policy Making. March, p. 21.
Silverberg, Helene. Organizing a Course That Is Attentive to Issues of Racial and Sexual Difference. December, p. 718.
Sniderman, Paul M. Sidney Verba: An Intellectual Biography. September, p. 574.
Stiepleman, David. Looking for Results: The Minority Graduate Fellowship Program 1969–94. June, p. 307.
Stimson, James A., Michael B. MacKuen, and Robert E. Erikson. Opinion and Policy: A Global View. March, p. 29.
Taylor, Andrew J. Teaching Politics Panoramically: American Government and the Case Method. September, p. 535.
Vile, John R., and Thomas R. Van Dervort. Revitalizing Undergraduate Programs Through Intercollegiate Mock Trial Competition. December, p. 712.
Werlin, Herbert H. A Primary/Secondary Democracy Distinction. September, p. 530.
White, Joseph. Budget Blues. June, p. 214.
Wickham, Carrie Rosefsky. Beyond Democratization: Political Change in the Arab World. September, p. 507.
Wilmer, Franke, Michael E. Melody, and Margaret Maier Murdock. Including Native American Perspectives in the Political Science Curriculum. June, p. 269.
Wilson, James Q. Reinventing Public Administration. December, p. 667.
Worcester, Kenton W., and Sidney Tarrow. The New Challenges Facing European Studies. March, p. 53.
Zahariadis, Nikolaos. Garbage Cans and the Hiring Process. March, p. 98.
Zimmerman, Joseph F. Alternative Voting Systems for Representative Democracy. December, p. 674.

Author Index by Subject

American Politics

Gerber, Scott D. Reordering American Constitutional Law Teaching. December, p. 703.
Hochschild, Jennifer. The Political Contingency of Public Opinion, or What Shall We Make of the Declining Faith of Middle-Class African Americans? March, p. 35.
Jacobs, Lawrence R., and Robert Y. Shapiro. Studying Substantive Democracy. March, p. 9.
McIntosh, Daniel. Political Economy in a Lunar Colony: A Simulation of Relationships Between Technology and Politics. December, p. 706.
Russett, Bruce, Thomas Hartley, and Shoon Murray. The End of the Cold War, Attitude Change, and the Politics of Defense Spending. March, p. 17.
Werlin, Herbert H. A Primary/Secondary Democracy Distinction. September, p. 530.
White, Joseph. Budget Blues. June, p. 214.

Comparative Politics

Bellin, Eva. Civil Society: Effective Tool of Analysis for Middle Eastern Politics? September, p. 509.
Bill, James A. Comparative Middle East Politics: Still in Search of Theory. September, p. 518.
Cantori, Louis J. Introduction: Democracy, Islam, and the Study of Middle Eastern Politics. September, p. 507.
Cantori, Louis J. The Old Orthodoxy and the New Orthodoxy in the Study of Middle Eastern Politics. September, p. 515.
Clark, Terry D. The Russian Elections: Back to Square One? September, p. 520.
Field, Mona. Impact of Ideology on Press Reports About Events in the Former Soviet Union. March, p. 55.
Green, Jerrold D. The Politics of Middle East Politics. September, p. 517.
Gunter, Michael M. A Trip to Free Kurdistan. March, p. 146.
Korany, Bahgat. Arab Democratization: A Poor Cousin? September, p. 511.
Nagal, Jack H. What Political Scientists Can Learn From the 1993 Electoral Reform in New Zealand. September, p. 525.
Nelson, Daniel N., and Samuel Bentley. The Comparative Politics of Eastern Europe. March, p. 45.
Parens, Joshua. Whose Liberalism? Which Islam? Leonard Binder's "Islamic Liberalism." September, p. 514.
Wickham, Carrie Rosefsky. Beyond Democratization: Political Change in the Arab World. September, p. 507.
Worcester, Kenton W., and Sidney Tarrow. The New Challenges Facing European Studies. March, p. 53.

Computer Applications

Bowers, David Alexander. Using Prodigy and Other Online Services in the Political Science Classroom. December, p. 708.
Permaloff, Anne, and Carl Grafton. Information at Your Fingertips: Online Services for the New User. June, p. 232.

Elections, Electoral Process, and Political Parties

Brams, Steven J., and Samuel Merrill III. Would Ross Perot Have Won the 1992 Presidential Election Under Approval Voting? March, p. 39.
Engstrom, Robert L. Voting Rights and Election Systems: Dilution, Compactness, and Appearance. December, p. 685.
Monroe, Burt L. Beyond 'Plurality versus PR.' December, p. 677.
Rosenstone, Steven J., and David C. Leege. An Update on the National Election Studies. December, p. 693.
Rush, Mark E. Gerrymandering: Out of the Political Thicket and Into the Quagmire. December, p. 682.

Zimmerman, Joseph F. Alternative Voting Systems for Representative Democracy. December, p. 674.

Judicial Politics

Cominskey, Michael. The Usefulness of Senate Confirmation Hearings for Judicial Nominees: The Case of Ruth Bader Ginsburg. June, p. 224.
Cook, Beverly B. Ghosts and Giants in Judicial Politics. March, p. 78.
Mather, Lynn. Introducing a Feminist Pioneer in Judicial Politics: Beverly Blair Cook. March, p. 76.
Nossiff, Rosemary. Why Justice Ginsburg Is Wrong About States Expanding Abortion Rights. June, p. 227.

News of the Profession and the Discipline of Political Science

Anagnoson, J. Theodore. Netting the Big One: Some Things Candidates (and Departments) Ought to Know . . . From the Hiring Department's Perspective. September, p. 558.
APSA Committee on Education (1991–93). APSA Guidelines for Teacher Training. June, p. 261.
Bourque, Susan C. APSA Treasurer's Report. December, p. 756.
Brintnall, Michael. Report on the APSA Research Grant Program. March, p. 122.
Brintnall, Michael. A Political Scientist Returns to Vietnam. September, p. 628.
Chittick, William O. Enlargement of Foreign Policy Section. December, p. 750.
Clarke, Jeanne N., Remembering Aaron Wildavsky. March, p. 132.
Furlong, Deborah K., and Scott R. Furlong. Netting the Big One: Things Candidates (and Departments) Ought to Know. March, p. 91.
Gruberg, Martin. Incorporating a Women's Studies Dimension Into Mainstream Political Science Courses. December, p. 717.
Gruberg, Martin. Participation by Women in the 1994 APSA Meeting. December, p. 741.
Katzenstein, Mary Fainsod, and Peter J. Katzenstein. Invitation to Submit Proposals for 1995 Annual Meeting. September, p. 597.
Kelaher, Christopher J., and Edward Artinian. How to Select a Publisher in Political Science. March, p. 84.
Melone, Albert P. Serendipity and International Experience in Political Science: the Bulgaria/Southern Illinois University at Carbondale Connection. March, p. 149.
Nelson, Michael. Faculty and Community in the Liberal Arts College (With Observations on Research and Teaching). March, p. 73.
Peng, Yali. Intellectual Fads in Political Science: The Cases of Political Socialization and Community Power Studies. March, p. 100.
Powell, Jr., G. Bingham. Report of the Managing Editor of the American Political Science Review, 1993–94. December, 759.
Prestage, Jewel L. The Case of African American Women and Politics. December, p. 720.
Roelofs, H. Mark. Two Ways to Political Science: Critical and Descriptive. June, p. 264.
Rudder, Catherine E. Report of the Executive Director. September, p. 580.
Rule, Wilma. Electoral Systems: Critical for Women's Recruitment. December, p. 689.
Ryan, Jeffrey J., and Marijke Bruening. Twisting Arms and Holding Hands: M.A. Students and Conference Participation. June, p. 256.
Sanchez-Lazer, Teresa. Advanced Placement Program News. June, p. 263.
Sniderman, Paul M. Sidney Verba: An Intellectual Biography. September, p. 574.
Stiepleman, David. Looking for Results: The Minority Graduate Fellowship Program 1969–94. June, p. 307.
Wilmer, Franke, Michael E. Melody, and Margaret Maier Murdock. Including Native American Perspectives in the Political Science Curriculum. June, p. 269.
Wilson, James Q. Reinventing Public Administration. December, p. 667.
Zahariadis, Nikolaos. Garbage Cans and the Hiring Process. March, p. 98.

Political Science Education

Baker, Nancy V. Oyez, Oyez, Oyez: the Trials of Teaching the Supreme Court. June, p. 253.
Black, Naomi. Introduction: Mainstreaming Gender, Race, and Sexual Orientation in the Teaching of Political Science. December, p. 716.
Githens, Marianne. Teaching Against the Double Couplet of Problem/Victim. December, p. 721.
Hammer, Dean. Giving Flesh to Ideas: Constructing A Cultural Dialogue. June, p. 259.
Hoefler, James M. Critical Thinking and the Use of Optical Illusions. September, p. 538.
Hubbell, Larry. Teaching Research Methods: An Experiential and Heterodoxical Approach. March, p. 60.
Jordan, Donald L., and Peter M. Sanchez. Traditional versus Technology-Aided Instruction: The Effects of Visual Stimulus in the Classroom. March, p. 64.
Keyssar, Helene. Space Bridges: The US-Soviet Space Bridge Resource Center. June, p. 247.
Langbein, Laura I. The Validity of Student Evaluations of Teaching. September, p. 545.
McBride, Allan. Teaching Research Methods Using Appropriate Technology. September, p. 553.
Morduchowicz, Roxana. Newspapers As Texts for Students' Political Education: The Case of Argentina. June, p. 316.
Olshfski, Dorothy. Teaching Public Administration by Exploiting Managerial Experience. March, p. 67.
Parker, E. Joyce. Mainstreaming Gender, Race, and Sexual Orientation in Teaching: A Student's Point of View. December, p. 722.
Peterson, V. Spike. Social Hierarchies as Systems of Power. December, p. 719.
Salkever, Stephen G., and Michael Nylan. Comparative Political Philosophy and Liberal Education: "Looking for Friends in History." June, p. 238.
Seitz, John L. "Now That Was A Good Class": Learning About Politics by Observing Local Government. March, p. 71.
Silverberg, Helene. Organizing a Course That Is Attentive to Issues of Racial and Sexual Difference. December, p. 718.
Taylor, Andrew J. Teaching Politics Panoramically: American Government and the Case Method. September, p. 535.
Vile, John R., and Thomas R. Van Dervort. Revitalizing Undergraduate Programs Through Intercollegiate Mock Trial Competition. December, p. 712.

Public and Health Policy

Brown, Lawrence D. National Health Reform: An Idea Whose Political Time Has Come? June, p. 198.
Fein, Rashi. Economists and Health Reform. June, p. 192.
Gray, Virginia. Federalism and Health Care. June, p. 217.
Jacobs, Lawrence R., and Robert Y. Shapiro. Questioning the Conventional Wisdom on Public Opinion Toward Health Reform. June, p. 208.
Marmor, Theodore. The Politics of Universal Health Insurance: Lessons from Past Administrations? June, p. 194.
Morone, James A. Neglected Institutions: Politics, Administration, and Health Reform. June, p. 220.
Page, Benjamin I. Democratic Responsiveness? Untangling the Links Between Public Opinion and Policy. March, p. 25.

Peterson, Mark A. Health Care and the Hill: Why Is This Year Different From All Others? June, p. 202.
Skocpol, Theda. From Social Security to Health Security? Opinion and Rhetoric in U.S. Social Policy Making. March, p. 21.
Stimson, James A., Michael B. MacKuen, and Robert E. Erikson. Opinion and Policy: A Global View. March, p. 29.

APSA Publications List

*Items marked with an asterisk are available from Customer Services Department, University Microfilms, 300 North Zeeb Road, Ann Arbor, Michigan 48106; (800) 521-0600.

PERIODICALS

The American Political Science Review. The leading quarterly journal of scholarly articles and book reviews in political science. Included in APSA membership. Back issues: $20 per copy, $80 per volume.

PS: Political Science & Politics. Quarterly journal of Association news and lively articles of political analysis. PS is the best single source of information on professional opportunities. Included in APSA membership. Back issues: $10 per copy, $40 per volume ($15 for the spring issue which contains the preliminary program).

The Political Science Teacher. Stimulating quarterly magazine on education, curriculum, and teaching. Distributed to U.S. individual members only. Fall 1990 issue was the last separate issue of The Teacher. As of March 1991 The Teacher was incorporated into PS. Back issues of The Teacher are available while supply lasts for $4 each (includes postage).

this Constitution: A Bicentennial Chronicle. A special Fall 1991 issue (No. 19) devoted to the Bill of Rights is available at $6 per copy. Add $1 postage each copy.

DIRECTORIES

APSA Membership Directory. Names, addresses, current position, institutional affiliation, highest degrees, and fields of specialization of APSA individual members. Index includes listings of women, black, and Hispanic political scientists, a geographical listing of members, and a listing of members by fields of interest. 1994-96. $35 members; $55 nonmembers. Triennial.

APSA Biographical Directory. Names, addresses, current position, institutional affiliation, highest degree, fields of specialization, and honors and publications of APSA individual members. Index includes listings of women, Black, and Hispanic members, a geographical listing, and a listing of members by fields of interest. $15, APSA members; $20, nonmembers. 1988.

Directory of Black Americans in Political Science. Lists over 400 Black American political scientists by name, address, phone, degrees, and fields of specialization. Indexed by field of academic specialization and research interests. $5, 2nd edition, 1988.

Graduate Faculty and Programs in Political Science, 1995-97. Lists over 300 Ph.D. and M.A. programs in political science in the United States and Canada. The description of each program includes information about specialization(s), tuition charges and financial aid, admission, and degree requirements. Also lists faculty, by name, with their highest degree, fields of specialization, current position, and e-mail address.

This guide has a faculty and geographical index and comprehensive data for each program on student admissions, enrollments, degrees awarded, and financial aid.

The price is $28 for APSA members and $50 for nonmembers; $20 with student membership. Triennial.

Directory of Undergraduate Political Science Faculty, 1993-95. Lists undergraduate departments offering political science with name, address, phone number, and names and specializations of faculty members. $20, APSA members; $35, nonmembers. Triennial.

APSA Directory of Political Science Department Chairpersons. Names and addresses of chairpersons in departments offering political science at four-year institutions. $20, members; $25 nonmembers. Annual, November.

INDEXES

Cumulative Index to the American Political Science Review. 1906-1968, $6.50. AVAILABLE UNIVERSITY MICROFILMS. SEE * FOR ADDRESS.

Cumulative Index to the Proceedings of the Annual Meeting. Key word index to all papers included in proceedings of Annual Meetings for 1904-1912, 1956-1970. $18.50. AVAILABLE UNIVERSITY MICROFILMS. SEE * FOR ADDRESS.

SYLLABI COLLECTION

The Political Science Course Syllabi Collection. The Course Syllabi Project has developed selected collections of exemplary syllabi for reference and adaptation by departments, faculty and graduate students in designing courses. If you are planning a new course, revising a current course, or adding a course to your undergraduate curriculum, the collections of course syllabi edited by experienced faculty provide valuable guidance and references.

Introduction to International Relations, edited by Linda Brady; American Government and Politics, edited by Marjorie R. Hersey; Introduction to Political Theory, edited by Peter G. Stillman; Introduction to Political Science, edited by John C. Wahlke; Comparative Government and Politics, edited by Frank L. Wilson; Public Law, edited by Leif H. Carter; Methodology, edited by John R. Freeman and W. Phillips Shively; Capstone Course/Senior Seminar, edited by Ronald Kahn; Public Administration, edited by Naomi Lynn; Political Behavior, edited by Nancy H. Zingale. $8 each.

INSTRUCTIONAL MATERIALS

SETUPS: American Politics (Supplementary Empirical Teaching Units in Political Science). Computer-related instructional materials whereby students learn important substantive topics in American politics as they learn methods of analysis. (20% discount on orders of 25 or more copies.) Voting Behavior: The 1992 Election, by Charles Prysby and Carmine Scavo. 1993. Paper, $8.75. Voting Behavior: The 1988 Election, by Charles L. Prysby and Carmine Scavo. 1989. Financing Congressional Campaigns, by Clyde Wilcox. 1988. paper, $8.00 each (20% discount on an order of 25 copies or more of one book title).

Women and American Politics: A Series of Instructional Units. The monographs, designed for use in undergraduate courses, can be used individually to augment textbooks, or collectively to offer a course on women and politics. $6.50 each. Bulk rates available.

Women's Rights, Feminism, and Politics in the United States by Mary Lyndon Shanley with an Introduction and Epilogue by Shelby Lewis. This unit introduces the reader to the relationship between philosophy of feminism and American politics. It contains a history of women's political activities and of feminist ideology in the United States, along with a series of documents which are central primary sources for reconstructing those histories. Out of print. Contact APSA for reprint permission.

Women, Political Action, and Political Participation by Virginia Sapiro. This work focuses on women's opportunities for activism, communication, and influence, as well as how they have united into effective organizations devoted to political action and electoral participation. Out of print. Contact APSA for reprint permission.

Women's Movements: Organizing Change by Joyce Gelb and Ethel Klein. This monograph gives an in-depth look at women's social movements which are organized to effect change that require the resources, organization, leadership, and a constituency ready to commit itself to bringing this change about.

Women in the Judicial Process by Beverly B. Cook, Leslie F. Goldstein, Karen O'Connor, and Susette M. Talarico. In this monograph we look at women's experiences in that system. It is the authors' hope that these gains will continue, particularly as students of American government appreciate not only how the judicial process works but how women have fared at its hands.

Women and Power in American Politics by Milda K. Hedblom. This unit discusses the changes that justify a separate study of women in politics and the special study of women as power holders. It goes on to analyze how opportunities and power are regularly and differentially distributed among women and considers the evidence that for some political purposes women may become a distinctive economic and political interest group.

Project '87 Conference Monographs. The Constitutional Convention as an Amending Device, edited by Kermit L. Hall, Harold M. Hyman, and Leon V. Sigal, published jointly by the American Historical Association and the American Political Science Association, 1981. $4 for paper, $7 for hardcover. Teaching About the Constitution in American Secondary Schools, edited by Howard D. Mehlinger, published jointly by the American Historical Association and the American Political Science Association, 1981. $5, cloth. Liberty and Equality Under the Constitution, edited by John Agresto, published jointly by the American Historical Association and the American Political Science Association, 1983. $5 for paper, $8 for hardcover.

Lessons on the Constitution: Supplements to High School Courses in American History, Government and Civics, by John Patrick and Richard C. Remy and published by Project '87 and the Social Science Education Consortium. Paul Finkelman served as consulting historical editor. (THIS BOOK CAN BE ORDERED ONLY FROM SSEC PUBLICATIONS, 855 BROADWAY, BOULDER, CO 80302.) $19.95 each, lower price on bulk orders. For information and price list, write to the SSEC.

Ideas of the Founders on Constitutional Government: Resources for Teachers of History and Government, developed by John Patrick and published by Project '87 with the ERIC Clearinghouse for Social Studies/Social Science Education. Nine essays based on historical documents to explore constitutional thought of the Founders are accompanied by teaching plans for high school teachers and exercises for their students. 1991. Single copy $12. 10% discount on orders of 10 to 20 copies, 20% on 20 or more copies.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

Alternative Careers for Political Scientists. A monograph of practical advice for obtaining nonacademic employment. $5, bulk rates available.

Careers and the Study of Political Science: A Guide for Undergraduates. A monograph discussing the relationship between political science knowledge skills and careers in law, government, business, journalism, teaching, etc. $3.50, bulk rates available. 5th edition, 1994. Add $1 postage.

Political Science: An Ideal Liberal Arts Major. A brochure about the skills and career opportunities associated with the political science major. 25 copies, $15; 50 copies, $25; 100 copies, $40; 500 copies, $150; 1,000 copies, $250.

Personnel Service Newsletter. Monthly listing of positions for political scientists. Available only to APSA members: $30 U.S. subscription; $55 foreign subscription (includes Canada, Mexico).

Storming Washington: An Intern's Guide to National Government by Stephen Frantzich. A monograph on Washington, DC internships. $6 each. 4th edition, 1994, bulk rates available. Add $1 postage.

Earning a Ph.D. in Political Science. A brochure on choosing advanced study in political science. 1994. Single copy free. Bulk rates available at $20 for first 25 copies + $10 each add'l. 25 copies.

ANNUAL MEETING PUBLICATIONS

Annual Meeting Program. Final program for APSA Annual Meeting. Included in Annual Meeting registration. (Extra copies, $6.50 for members, $10 for non-APSA members.)

APSA Meetings Papers. Hard copies, $15 each. AVAILABLE UNIVERSITY MICROFILMS. SEE * FOR ADDRESS.

APSA Annual Meeting Proceedings. Microfilm reels of all papers, 1904-1913, 1956-1976, contact University Microfilms for individual prices. 1977-1982, $179.20 per year; 1983, $158.20; 1984, $166.20. The 1985 Proceedings will be $174.60. AVAILABLE UNIVERSITY MICROFILMS. SEE * FOR ADDRESS.

MAILING LISTS

APSA membership mailing lists and labels. For information and price list, contact APSA.

APSA political science department chairpersons mailing labels. For information and price list, contact APSA.

RESEARCH GUIDE

Guide to Federal Funding for Social Scientists. A multidisciplinary directory of over 200 federal programs that offer research support in the form of grants, fellowships, and contracts. Program listings include contacts, budgets, application procedures, and deadlines. 1990. $10.

MISCELLANEOUS

V. O. Key, Jr. and the Study of American Politics by Milton C. Cummings Jr., editor, with articles by Walter Dean Burnham, Philip E. Converse, Cummings, and David R. Mayhew. This is the first volume in the Evron M. Kirkpatrick monograph series on current issues in analysis of politics and the intellectual history of the discipline. $2. Add $1 postage. Bulk rates available.

The Style Manual for Political Science. Prepared under the auspices of the APSR in consultation with 25 political science journal editors, this manual is fast becoming the standard style (footnotes, references, citations, tables, etc.) for the profession. $2.50 for members, $4 nonmembers. Add $1 postage. Bulk rates available.

Political Science: The State of the Discipline, edited by Ada W. Finifter. Includes 19 chapters by many of the country's leading political scientists reviewing the present state and future directions of research in the subfields of the discipline. 1983. Paper: $15 for APSA members and classroom adoptions placed through bookstores; $25 for nonmembers. Limited supply.

Political Science: The State of the Discipline II, edited by Ada W. Finifter. All new more comprehensive volume with chapters by many of the country's leading political scientists identifying the boundaries and content of the discipline. 1993. Paper: $30 for APSA members; $45 for non-members. Bulk rates available.

A Guide to Professional Ethics in Political Science. A handbook of principles guiding the professional conduct of political scientists. $4, members; $6 nonmembers. Bulk rates available. Add $1 postage.

APSA Survey of Political Science Departments. Annual report of the results of an extensive questionnaire sent to all four-year institutions offering political science. Includes salary information, enrollment trends, and many other items of current interest. $20 each. Annual, summer.

Political Science Journal Information by Fenton Martin and Robert Goehlert. A definitive listing of scholarly journals available to political scientists and the specific review and publication procedures followed by these journals. Third edition. $18, members; $25, nonmembers.

The Blessings of Liberty, an exhibit of 12 full-color 22" × 36" posters, that tell the story of the United States Constitution. A User's Guide is included and provides essays, bibliographies, and graded lessons for students. $55 unmounted. $75 mounted. Prices include shipping charges in the Continental United States.

Simple Simulations II edited by Charles Walcott of the University of Minnesota, is a collection of 24 stimulating games and simulations easily used in the classroom. They can provide just the assistance you need to give your students a feel for politics and argument. These games span all major fields. $3 per copy.

SPECIAL DISCOUNT FOR APSA MEMBERS ONLY:

APSA members wishing to purchase directories in sets are able to do so at a discount price. These publications are published triennially, except for the infrequent Biographical Directory.

Graduate Faculty and Programs in Political Science, 1992–94, and the Directory of Undergraduate Political Science Faculty, 1993–95. Both directories at the combination rate of $40.

Biographical Directory, 1988, and 1991–93 Membership Directory. Both directories at the combination rate of $25.

Political Science: The State of the Discipline I, 1983 and Political Science: The State of the Discipline II. Both volumes for $45 while supplies last.

POLI-WARE

POLI-WARE is peer reviewed and class tested software for classroom and individual use on PC computers. Three new titles are available:

American Government Package, by Stephen Frantzich, offering upgraded Public Opinion Polling and Campaign simulations.

Chinese House Game, by James Lee, for undergraduate international relations courses, allowing students to make decisions as hypothetical nation-state leaders.

Introductory Topics in Political Science Research Methods, by Michael Corbett, offering self-paced interactive tutorials in research methods.

Orders should be placed with The Academic Software Library, Campus Box 8202, North Carolina State University, Raleigh, NC 27695-8202 or by phone at (800) 955-TASL or (919) 515-7447 or FAX (919) 515-2682. For further information on the Poli-Ware program, contact Stephen Frantzich at the APSA address. Call TASL for bulk pricing. $25 per single copy plus $3.50 S&H.